RELOCATION OF TOWN OF KURE BEACH TOWN HALL AND POLICE DEPARTMENT

The Town of Kure Beach will begin a construction project on the existing town hall complex site in mid-December 2017. The project will expand the existing town hall building on the east, south and north sides to add office and storage space; renovate the existing police station and fire station for future use by the police staff and construct a new fire station in a vacant lot adjacent to the town hall complex. Expectation for completion of this project is ten to twelve months.

During this time, the front entrance to the town hall site will be fenced and there will be no access. Also during this time, the fire department staff will remain in the existing fire station with access only on Seventh Avenue. This access will be limited and restricted.

During construction, the building inspector's office, finance department, administration and recreation department and police department staff will relocate to construction trailers located in the Fort Fisher Recreation Area (air base) at the south end of town. Space for the temporary facility has been provided thanks to a community outreach effort by both Seymour Johnson Air Force Base and the National Guard Training Facility. The mailing address for the town of 117 Settlers Lane will not change and current phone numbers will remain the same.

At this time, there is not a confirmed relocation date. Town officials expect it to be mid-December. Once all utilities are connected and the temporary site is ready, the relocation date will be announced. Signage will be posted with directions to the temporary facility.

We thank you in advance for your patience and consideration during the next year.
